

Will I still get my holiday if the firm goes bust before I depart?

If you've booked just a flight, and you have a scheduled airline ticket, you can still travel. For packages, you'll usually get a refund instead.

But if your holiday has to be cancelled, some travel agents may be willing to give you another one without payment – they'll ask you instead to fill in a form so that we can pay your refund to them.